A Hard Squeze and a Long Pull

After an interval of over two months, when it is reasonable to suppose that memory has had time to be asisted by reflection and its deficiencies supplied by repeated suggestions of what might be required by the necessities of the case, we find, as the result of much and severe labor in the getting up, a Card asserted that they were present at the discussion be- wishes of my old friends and neighbors, although I tween General Dockery and Mr. Bragg in Edenton on the 10th of April, and that they "distinctly recollect" that Mr. Bragg in answer to a question by General Dockery as to whether he was in favour of the State borrowing money to extend the North Carolina Railroad, East to Beaufort, and West to the Tennessee line, replied " No, Sir; but I am willing to extend the road as far as the means and resources of the day preceding the departure of the Canada, has the State will justify." This Card is dated June 12th 1854. two months and two days after the occurrence of the discussion to which it alludes, and appears lication of a letter addressed to Mr. Bragg by prominent citizens of Edenton, several of whom belong to the Whig party.
